

Night of Aphasia Arts

a celebratory event of creativity

National
Aphasia
Association

35th anniversary

Mark Harder

"Just Beat It!"

No Cure

Sing Aphasia Choir Members and Friends

Sing Aphasia

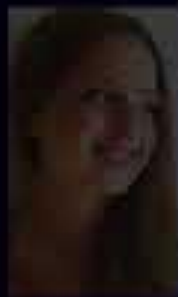

"There Will Come a Time"

Aphasia Recovery Connection

The performance was created as part of the regular dance classes "Dance Between Words" at the ARC - Aphasia Recovery Connection. Credits: Choreography: Kasia Ustowska-Gmerek in collaboration with the performers. Music: "Plus tôt" by Alexandra Stréliski. Voice: Tom Gmerek

IN/VISIBLE

Aphasia
DANCE
BETWEEN WORDS

Craig Smith

"Me & You - Aphasia"

Shai Anbar

A poem that is part of my new novella "Goddess Aphasia"

Anna Kathleen Eaves

Art and Music

Members of WAAC Group at Adler Aphasia Center

Opening song inspired by The Brady Bunch's theme song

Aphasia Clefs

Hands in Harmony

"Be True to You" by The Aphasia Clefs

Sherry Lovellette

Aphasia Gatherings

"Speechless"

Tiffany Alston, Paul Earney, Astrid Henry, Kolyn Jones, Terry Lipelt, Rich Reeder, Ava Mannion

MnCAN (Minnesota Connect Aphasia Now)

Ferris Bueller's Day Off - opening scene of Ferris Bueller's Day Off when his family discovers that Ferris is sick. Original script, includes 2 younger siblings.

Fern

Jessie

Corbin

Dad

Micki

Narrator

Todd

The Aphasia Tones Choir

Cal State East Bay

"Summer Nights" from the musical Grease

Buffy Stoner, Marcus Reiniger, James B. Jett, Lee "Woody" Thompson,
Van S. Gullede, Delores Gullede, and Peter Duffy (director)

Play on Words at University of South Carolina

Play on Words is a drama club for people with aphasia. Their video gives an impression of one of their meetings, with a few drama games plus scenes from a play they are rehearsing

Melissa Saylor

“My Mom Has Aphasia”

A stroke is kind of like a bruise in the brain.

Luke Pateras

"Aphasiac Gremlins" by Yvonne Kent Pateras

Mark Andrews

ICOMMUNICARE, LLC

Come See My Paintings!

Come see my paintings

Tanya Powell

"Flex" line dance performed by Tanya Powell of Pocketsize Dances.
The music is by The Official New Cupid

Wayne Zorn, Nancy Wendt, and CeCelia Zorn

Stand in the Light Memory Choir

"Living With Primary Progressive Aphasia: Rhythm Instruments Help Make Music"

Confident Communicators Gavel Club

MnCAN (Minnesota Connect Aphasia Now)

We are stepping out of our comfort zone and growing!

Astrid: We are afraid of speaking and talking and all the fixins', reading and spelling, and making mistakes.

Rich: We are happy to grow together, to evaluate and encourage one another, and to celebrate our progress!

Kolyn: We are nervous to give a speech, to pronounce words correctly, and to join the Gavel Club.

Farzana Marie

"Panic"

Malik Gillani

Silk Road Rising

2019 - Speech

Farzana Marie

"Crayons Canoe"

Frank Goulart

"Moondance"

Frank Goulart

Elizabeth Hindinger

The Amazing Liz and Her Stroke Recovery from A to Z

Joan Ferebee

The Baby Story

Mark Harder

Poems in Speech

Aphasia Is

A middle-aged man with short brown hair and glasses is speaking. He is wearing a light-colored, possibly white, sweater. The background shows a window with a decorative pattern. A yellow rounded rectangular box is overlaid on the bottom of the image, containing text.

Aphasias aphasia is like poetry and emptiness of words

Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center Stroke & Aphasia
Recovery (StAR) Program

"Somewhere Over the Rainbow"

Donald Smith

"Auld Lang Syne" (a Robbie Burns song), with guitar

Night of Aphasias Arts

a celebratory event of creativity

National
Aphasia
Association

35th anniversary